

ROBBERS WRECK
SANTA FE TRAIN

They Draw Spikes From Rails at End of Steel
Bridge Over Deep
Creek

MONEY CAR SAVED

The Car Which Contained a Vast Sum of Money
Had Been Left Behind.

(Special By Scripps-McLae.)

Pueblo, Colo., Oct. 31.—The Colorado-Chicago "flyer" on the Santa Fe road was wrecked by robbers at 1:30 o'clock Friday morning at Aplshapa creek, thirty-five miles east of this city. The engine struck the end of the steel bridge with full force, breaking the structure down. The engine and four cars following plunged to the bed of the creek, where they were piled up in a heap.

But for a hot box on the express car a large amount of money would have been in the safe in the wrecked train, and this, it is believed, was the plunder the desperadoes hoped for. Many valises were rifled by the robbers during the excitement following the wreck.

Money Is Safe.

The express car in which money was being transported was left at Colorado Springs for a later train.

A special effort will be made to apprehend the persons who caused the wreck. The best secret service men from the Topeka headquarters have been detailed on the case. The officials have been notified that already some clues have been found. A man giving the name of John Duffy was arrested here. A subsequent request was made for arrest of all suspicious characters for investigation, and this is being carried out.

Thirty or more trainmen and passengers were injured, and that several were not killed outright is regarded as almost miraculous. Only four were seriously injured.

Every person on the train was badly shaken up, and scarcely any escaped without cuts and bruises. Several women were prostrated by nervous shock.

Bankers on Train.

The wrecked train was made up at Denver, and at Pueblo the car Del Rosa, in charge of A. S. Kimberly, and carrying eighteen Eastern bankers on the way home from the San Francisco convention, was attached to it. The train was bowling along at high speed as it approached Aplshapa creek, between Manganola and Fowler.

At the west end of the bridge the spikes had been pulled from three rails. The rails spread, derailing the engine, and when it struck the bridge the span, 100 feet long, went down. The engine, two baggage cars, a chair car and a coach rolled over on their sides to the creek bed, a distance of fifteen feet. Little water was running in the creek. One Pullman stopped with the forward end projecting over the embankment. The bankers' car was the only one in the train that was not derailed.

Engineer Under Cab.

When the engine rolled over, Engineer Walker was pinned under his cab, and was immediately enveloped in a dense cloud of steam. He was rescued by other members of the train crew, with the assistance of some passengers.

Relief trains were sent to the scene of the accident from both Pueblo and La Junta. The wounded, with the passengers who were uninjured, were taken to La Junta. Engineer Walker and others who were seriously injured were placed in the Santa Fe hospital there, and the remaining resumed their eastward journey, with the exception of four women who were suffering from the shock. The damage is estimated at $18,000. An investigation showed plainly that the spikes had been pulled from three rails.

HYPNOTIST ESCAPES
VENGEANCE OF CROWD

Flees in Terror After Being Unable to Awake Subject Whom He Had Buried.

Lamont, S. D., Oct. 31.—Lured by the promise of a few dollars, Ole Rasmussen, a young farmer, offered himself as subject to a traveling hypnotist, who gave an exhibition here, and consented to be hypnotized and buried. Rasmussen still lies rigid in the coffin he voluntarily entered, while his friends are scouring the country in pursuit of the hypnotist, who fled in terror after trying vainly for more than an hour to revive his subject.

The coffin containing Rasmussen was dug up from the grave in which it was buried, and the entire town flocked to the lecture-room to witness the revival of the young man.

The lecturer's first attempt failed, and so did the second, and likewise the third. Then the hypnotist began to show signs of uneasiness, but most people in the audience thought nothing of the failures, supposing them to be a part of the performance.

After repeated efforts with the same fruitless results, the lecturer became excited, lost his self-control, fainted, and fell to the platform in a swoon.

Realizing the desperate situation, the audience was instantly in a state of the greatest excitement. The lecturer was trampled under foot by the infuriated mob, which swarmed onto the platform, and would have been killed had it not been for the presence of a few cool-headed men who took charge of him, removed him to a farmhouse near by and locked him in a bedroom, but in the midst of the uproar at the schoolhouse he regained consciousness, and, realizing the situation he was in, fled through a window.

H. A. CASTLE'S CAUSTIC RE-MARKS IN ANNUAL REPORT.

(Special By Scripps-McLae.)
Washington, Oct. 31.—H. A. Castle, auditor for the postoffice department, who is soon to retire because of the criticism his department delivered a caustic valedictory today in the form of his annual report in which he arraigns the lax administrative methods employed in that department. He says over forty million dollars have annually been and are being paid out upon mere certifications without checks or review. The practice to which he frequently called attention, but which has not been corrected.

UNION REPUDIATES SAM PARKS

Conservatives Take Control and Will Oust Old Leader.

New York, Oct. 31.—Sam Parks, the convicted walking delegate of the Housewives' and Bridgemen's union, was in a measure repudiated by his own union, local No. 2. It remained for his arch-enemy, Buchanan, to give him the telling blow. He told the union it should be ashamed of its blind obedience to the commands of a criminal; told the men they were the shame of organized labor of this country and concluded by pointing out to them that the only possible outlook for peace and work was in accepting the arbitration plan. When Buchanan had finished the conservative element was in absolute control and at the next meeting, it was announced, charges will be preferred against Parks and McCarthy, their conviction warranting the penalty of dismissal from the union.

MAN SEEKS PRESIDENT
TO ASK PROTECTION

Former Employee of Koch Institute
Thinks Physician Is Pursuing
Him in Airship.

Washington, Oct. 31.—Edward Tanner, a native of Switzerland, Friday attempted to force his way to President Roosevelt, to appeal to him for protection from enemies who were pursuing him in an airship.

Tanner is 39 years old, and came to this city on Monday. At 4 o'clock he entered the White House and demanded to see President Roosevelt. He was intercepted by Secret Service Agent Taylor, and taken to police headquarters, where he is held pending an examination as to his sanity. Tanner says he was born in Geneva, Switzerland, and came to this country when 20 years old. He married a Miss Jacobson of Davenport, Iowa, and with her moved to Memphis, Tenn., where he was a night watchman for the Koch Medical Institute for a number of years. Four years ago Tanner left Memphis, because, he says, he was pursued night and day by Dr. Koch, the eminent Gorman specialist on pulmonary diseases. In an airship, accompanied by two men and three women. To escape them he had spent the last four summers in Yellowstone park, and his winters in San Francisco.

Last April, however, he went as far as Honolulu in his flight, but without avail, as even there he was pursued by his hallucination. When searched $52 in money was found on him, but there was no weapon, nor was he at any time violent.

TELEPHONE CO. TO RE-ARRANGE WIRES

Lives of Linemen Imperiled by Induction of Electric Light Wires—Crew Commence Work Soon.

The Wisconsin Telephone Co. will shortly rearrange its whole outlying system of telephone wires. Throughout the country during the past year no less than nine men in the employ of the corporation in this and other states have been killed by the tremendous induction of neighboring electric light wires. The electric light voltage in Janesville is 2,300 and is large enough to make changes in the position of the wires imperative. Engineer Burkett of Milwaukee was here this week to inspect the line. Within the next 30 days a crew of twenty men will be set to work in this district, to so rearrange the wires and poles that linemen's lives may no longer be endangered.

Breach of Promise Verdict

Michigan Young Woman Is Awarded
$30,000 by the Jury.

(Special By Scripps-McLae.)
Grand Rapids, Mich., Oct. 31.—Miss Henrietta Adams of Caseyville, Mich., was given a verdict for $30,000 against Robert Stuart Baker, a well known young man of this city, for breach of promise. The trial has been one of the most sensational in the history of western Michigan. The wooing which led to Baker's proposal of marriage to the young woman began when both were students at Olivet College. Several hundred letters written to Miss Adams by Baker were read in court and a number from the young woman to the defendant were introduced as evidence. Many of Baker's letters were sensational. The jury decided that Baker fraudulently made the contract of marriage with the intention of seduction.

ATTEMPT TO LYNCH IN PEORIA

Slain Detective's Friends Are Cheated of Hangby by His Brother.

(Special By Scripps-McLae.)
Peoria, Ill., Oct. 31.—But for the refusal of a brother of his victim to lead a lynching party, John McCray, the reprobated murderer of Detective Murphy, might have been hanged by a mob. Seventy-five friends of Murphy called on his brother at 1 o'clock in the morning and asked him to lead them in an assault on the jail, with the object of lynching the negro. When Murphy refused to rob the law of its prospective victim the mob dispersed.

SELECTS PARRY
FOR PRESIDENT

An Anti-Union Leader Is Chosen to Lead the
New Industrial Association.

SOP FOR THE CITIES

Two Elective Positions Are Given to Western Delegates—Indianapolis
Has the Rest.

(Special By Scripps-McLae.)

Chicago, Oct. 31.—That the Citizens' Industrial Association of America will be conducted along the old class lines of an employers' association, unhampered by the Citizens' Alliance idea, was made clear at Kimball Hall, when the new organization elected David M. Parry of Indianapolis as its president.

Mr. Parry is president of the National Manufacturers' Association and the out-and-out enemy of union labor, whose radical utterances have made him the champion of nonunionism throughout the country. A sop was thrown to the Citizens' Alliance delegates by giving them the first vice presidency and the treasurer'ship.

Parry Men on Top.

The president, three vice presidents and the treasurer constitute five members of the executive committee, but President Parry will appoint the other ten. This arrangement will leave the Citizens' Alliance people two positions on the executive committee, which practically will control the organization.

Though representatives of citizens' alliances were invited to come to the convention to organize the national body, the two days' sessions were one long fight on the question whether the lines of the new organization should be broadened to admit them. The issue was a compromise.

Controls Executive Board.

The citizens' alliances were admitted, and their delegates congratulated themselves on what they were pleased to consider a victory. But the election of Mr. Parry and his power in creating the executive committee show that the principle on which employers' associations are founded will be the dominant principle of the new concern.

The following other officers were elected:

First vice president—J. C. Craig of the Colorado State and Denver Citizens' Alliance.

Second vice president—E. M. McCleary of Detroit, president of the National Electrical Contractors' Association.

Third vice president—J. T. Hollis of New York, secretary of the New York Manufacturers' Association.

Treasurer—A. C. Rosencranz of Evansville, Ind., president of the Evansville Citizens' Alliance.

OPENED FIRE ON THE ENGINE CAB

An Attack Made on St. Paul Limited
Near Des Plaines Last Night—
Fireman Earnest Hurt.

As the St. Paul vestibule train that left the North-Western depot in Chicago neared Des Plaines last evening, four shots were discharged at the engine cab from the right of way. Two of these struck Fireman Louis Earnest, of Chicago, one lodging in the left knee and inflicting a wound which may prove fatal, and the other demolishing the case of a watch which he carried in one of his pockets. Engineer Ebbetts, mistaking the first shots for torpedo signals, hastily applied the brakes and brought the train to an abrupt stop.

Taken To Hospital.
The cry of the fireman that he was shot, first brought the engineer to a realization of what was happening. He seized his revolver as the sound of the fourth shot reached his ears and prepared to open fire on the assailants. Nothing could be seen in the darkness and with the fourth shot the firing ceased. Assistance was called and the injured fireman was taken to St. Luke's Hospital in Des Plaines where all attempts to remove the bullet failed.

Was Not Held Up.

The theory that this was an attempted hold-up is scouted by Night Chief Train Dispatcher, B. E. Terpin of Chicago. The train carried no express matter and there was no attempt to stop it. From all appearances the attack was a deliberate attempt to maim or kill the fireman. By some it is attributed to spite work of tramps who may have been at some time thrown off the train, while others profess to see in it the envenomment of a love affair, in which vengeful friends of an alleged former sweetheart of the fireman attempted to make him suffer for fancied in jury.

Tied in First Half.

A report from Minneapolis at 4 o'clock gave the result of the Michigan-Minnesota game at the end of the first half as 0 to 0.

Last evening there was a social and dance held under the auspices of the Rock County Caledonian society at Central hall. A delightful musical program was rendered and the artists taking part in this portion of the entertainment deserve the greatest of credit. The Paul sisters gave a musical selection, Robble Clark and Miss Gardner also gave pleasing selections and then Mrs. Mason gave a charming recitation. This was followed by a song by Misses Majorie Bates, Hazel Ifowe, and Crissy Galbraith. The Milton orchestra then gave a musical selection which was followed by a song by Miss Susie Paul. Mr. Hardy then gave a recitation and Mr. Steve Perie a vocal selection and the Paul sisters closed the program with a charming selection. Then followed a dance which lasted until the wee small hours. The committee in charge of the evening's entertainment was Jesse Earl, Dave Brown, Frank Gentle, Burr Scott, Graham Galbraith and Walter Little.

A parting reception was given to Mr. Archie Crawford and family last evening in the parlors of the First Methodist church. Mr. Robert W. Clark had charge of the informal program. Appreciative speeches were made by Messrs. D. S. Cummings, John Horn, Rev. E. S. McChesney, Samuel Wright, W. G. Cannon, W. F. Austin and Miss Alice Clithero. A handsome Morris chair was presented to the family as a token of the high esteem in which they are held by the church and congregation. The presentation was made by Rev. W. W. Wrenner. Mr. Crawford responded in well chosen words and the balance of the evening was spent socially; each one of the large company expressing regret at the loss of so useful a family and personally wishing them the best of success for the future. Mr. and Mrs. Crawford leave for Warren the first of next week.

the platform in evening dress was the fat swaggering bully, with no ambition but for a drinking bout or a joke. Mr. Darrach's impersonation of Sir Andrew Agcheek was also beyond criticism.

One of the most characteristic scenes was the soliloquy of Malvolio, the concealed steward, upon his finding the forged letter from Olivia. The speaker's change, when several characters entered the conversation at once was perfect and the changes of his voice from the tearful pleadings of Cesario, the page, to the love-sick speeches of the duke, were delightful. The entertainment was a rare treat and deserved better patronage than was given any of the three recitals.

SOME TWENTY-FIVE POUNDS

All Sorts of Fish in the 8-Ton Haul—
Milwaukee Enthusiast Jumps in Lake at Sight of Them.

Matter-of-fact, prosaic, joyless men who have never known the poetry of sitting in the glaring sun from dawn till twilight of a hot summer's day, watching the bobber that never ebbs, the rod that never quivers, the reel that never spins; cherishing hopes and expectations that are never fulfilled; men who have never known the perfect contentment and satisfaction of the fisherman—philosopher returning home with an empty creel when the birds have gone to sleep, or his fierce, reckless joy on another day when there comes a jerk, a struggle, moments of breathless suspense, and then—a magnificent catch with a giant one-pound bass high and dry on the bank;—such men will discern no character or "temperament" in the Milwaukee brewery agent who visited Lake Koshkonong one day this week.

Jumped into Lake
He arrived on the beach just in time to see the crew of men employed by C. K. Freer of Sandusky, Ohio, pull in the great 3,500-foot net. In that draught there was several tons of live, leaping game-fish. There were great pickerel that would tip the beams at sixteen pounds and lazy carp that weighed all the way from eighteen to twenty-five. The sight was too much for the Milwaukee man. When he saw these prize catches of a hundred years' fishing with hook and line, he paused not to think of fine rainment but with a shout plunged into the water and joined the men who were hauling in the big catch.

A Great Spectacle
A. H. Shekey and son, J. H. Shekey, both engineers on the North-Western road have been enjoying the past fortnight on their five-acre tract on the lake front. Duck hunting has been part of their time watching and sometimes helping the fishermen. J. H. Shekey came into Janesville last night. He says that the emptying of the net is one of the remarkable sights he has ever seen and that the whole system of "big fish" stories will have to be revised—in this section at least.

A Sample Haul
On Thursday the net brought in some 16,000 pounds of fish. There were over three tons of carp and dogfish, some of the former weighing all the way from fifteen to twenty-five pounds; about two hundred plike weighing from four to sixteen pounds; five or six hundred bullheads that would average, dressed, about a pound. Besides these there were innumerable suckers, sun fish, "croppies," or silver bass, and a few eels. Strangely enough no gar-fish have been captured in any of the hauls, and the big muskellong which are supposed by some to haunt the deep waters have not put in an appearance. However, only a small part of the lake has been dragged.

All Sorts of Fish in the 8-Ton Haul—
Milwaukee Enthusiast Jumps in Lake at Sight of Them.

Matter-of-fact, prosaic, joyless men who have never known the poetry of sitting in the glaring sun from dawn till twilight of a hot summer's day, watching the bobber that never ebbs, the rod that never quivers, the reel that never spins; cherishing hopes and expectations that are never fulfilled; men who have never known the perfect contentment and satisfaction of the fisherman—philosopher returning home with an empty creel when the birds have gone to sleep, or his fierce, reckless joy on another day when there comes a jerk, a struggle, moments of breathless suspense, and then—a magnificent catch with a giant one-pound bass high and dry on the bank;—such men will discern no character or "temperament" in the Milwaukee brewery agent who visited Lake Koshkonong one day this week.

Jumped into Lake
He arrived on the beach just in time to see the crew of men employed by C. K. Freer of Sandusky, Ohio, pull in the great 3,500-foot net. In that draught there was several tons of live, leaping game-fish. There were great pickerel that would tip the beams at sixteen pounds and lazy carp that weighed all the way from eighteen to twenty-five. The sight was too much for the Milwaukee man. When he saw these prize catches of a hundred years' fishing with hook and line, he paused not to think of fine rainment but with a shout plunged into the water and joined the men who were hauling in the big catch.

A Great Spectacle
A. H. Shekey and son, J. H. Shekey, both engineers on the North-Western road have been enjoying the past fortnight on their five-acre tract on the lake front. Duck hunting has been part of their time watching and sometimes helping the fishermen. J. H. Shekey came into Janesville last night. He says that the emptying of the net is one of the remarkable sights he has ever seen and that the whole system of "big fish" stories will have to be revised—in this section at least.

A Sample Haul
On Thursday the net brought in some 16,000 pounds of fish. There were over three tons of carp and dogfish, some of the former weighing all the way from fifteen to twenty-five pounds; about two hundred plike weighing from four to sixteen pounds; five or six hundred bullheads that would average, dressed, about a pound. Besides these there were innumerable suckers, sun fish, "croppies," or silver bass, and a few eels. Strangely enough no gar-fish have been captured in any of the hauls, and the big muskellong which are supposed by some to haunt the deep waters have not put in an appearance. However, only a small part of the lake has been dragged.

No Fish Shipped
The dog-fish are not ignominiously slain and bodied on the shore—a fate which popular opinion had predestined for them. On the contrary, they are imprisoned with their companions in disgrace—the carp—in great pens constructed of two-by-fours and boards and measuring twenty feet square. Thirty-five tons of fish have been brought in this week but the carp and dog-fish sometimes make up less than a half of the draught. None of the fish have yet been taken from the pens, though there are now thought to be about two carloads awaiting shipment.

Game Wardens Watchful
Deputy Game Warden Charles Nelson and his assistant, Warden Baker, are witnesses of all the operations and all game-fish, with the exception of one or two out of a haul that occasionally form a part of the crew's supper, are given their liberty. The crew is said to be made up of a temperate, orderly, sort of men who have made this sort of work their profession. Their camp on the shore consists of a cook-tent and a living tent and there are about ten in the company.

To Work Till Winter
They expect to work on Koshkonong until the ice freezes, as it will require many days to thoroughly drag the lake. The process is a long and tedious one and it is not probable that more than one haul will be made in a day. Many snags are encountered and when the net is torn as not infrequently happens, several hours must be consumed in repairing it.

Net Dragged by Tug
The "sweeping" of the water is a very interesting process. At a given point on the shore one end of the net is securely fastened. Then with the long seine, averaging in width about sixteen feet, on board, the little tug puts out to sea, and begins to describe a wide semi-circle towards another point on the shore several hundred feet distant. When it has reached this point the other end is made fast and the work of pulling in the catch begins.

Pulling in the Catch
This is done very slowly and carefully. Two crews in boats row out to the seine and attach ropes to its bottom a few rods from either end. These ropes are brought ashore and with the aid of windlasses the two extreme segments of the semi-circle are drawn to the shore and made fast. The same operation is repeated until the "ends" of the seine are only a few rods apart. The windlasses are then abandoned and the balance of the work is "done by hand." Had the dimensions of Lake Koshkonong been more clearly understood, the men say that they would have brought a much longer net with them.

What Becomes of Fish?
What becomes of the carp and dog-fish after they reach their destination in New York? Do they masquerade in open market as "Lake Superior white-fish," or are they colored, flavored, canned, and returned to Janesville as "Columbia River Salmon?" Whatever metamorphosis they undergo Koshkonong is well rid of them in their present form, at any rate, and sportsmen will not bother their heads much about the possible "trade secrets" involved.

Mrs. John Henning, St. Paul, was all run down—weak and nervous. Rocky Mountain Tea made a new woman of her. Gained nearly fifty pounds. 35 cents. Smith's Pharmacy.

Richard Carvel

"Richard Carvel," to be presented by Andrew Robson and his company of excellent players at the Myers Grand tonight is a romantic drama of intense and extraordinary interest, adapted from a novel so extensively read that the characters seem like familiar acquaintances to two-thirds of the number of theatre-goers while to the others the play, so complete in itself as a drama is it; appears with the force of novelty added to its dramatic charm; staged with complete special scenery throughout and supplied with all the accessories of correct costumes, furnishings and minor details that add so largely in presenting appropriate pictures of the environments. As the Empire theatre in New York; That each of the thirty-two parts concerned in the development of the story is interpreted by a skilled actor especially adapted to portray it; and that, unlike many modern stars who seem to monopolize the center of the stage, Mr. Robson appreciates the praise bestowed upon the members of his company for successful and meritorious work performed by them quite as fully as he does commendation for his own efforts. The popularity of Winston Churchill's novel should serve to attract a large audience to witness the play.

Mrs. Wiggs

A number of cities have now added the seal of their approval to the dramatization of "Mrs. Wiggs of the

Mr. Andrew Robson

the romantic hero of revolutionary days, Mr. Robson, it is said, has scored a veritable triumph that has added to the laurels earned by his earlier endeavors in this class of dramatic work, and that has placed him easily among the very foremost exponents of romantic roles now prominently before the American public. Without a single exception each city visited by Mr. Robson and his company this season has accorded to star, play and supporting company a reception that was almost phenomenal in its warmth and heartiness, and that the success achieved during the thirty-five weeks' tour of last season throughout the large cities has been more than duplicated. The production everywhere has been commented upon, for in each city he visits the entire scenic production, without change or elimination, that added so materially in establishing the play as a success among the seventeen weeks' run that was accorded it at "Cabbage Patch," which Liebler & Co. have been presenting to the audiences of those towns during the past few weeks. The practically unanimous verdict of all the play reviewers would seem to be to the effect that a really clever and actable comedy has been evolved from the two famous stories of Mrs. Rice, which have been so widely read from one part of the union to the other until Mrs. Wiggs herself is now a national character. The characterizations of the cast are particularly praised. One critic remarks: "Practically all the unique plentizens of the 'Cabbage Patch' are paraded before us and they gain rather than lose by the transplanting from the book to the stage. This exception to the rule must be attributed to the superb cast which is entrusted to the delineation of the characters. It is not extravagant to say that never before were so many remarkable character actors seen in one production in a play house."

AT CLINTON

Prominent Speakers Take Part in the Program—Banquet at Hall.

The eighth annual banquet of the Clinton Y. M. C. A. took place last evening and proved one of the best meetings ever held. Covers were laid for 130 and during the dinner addresses were given by prominent men in the state. One of the most enjoyable features of the evening was the singing by the Janesville quartet, composed of J. C. Kline, F. Lewis, Dr. Richards and Mr. Brady. The members were encouraged to the echo and the quartet was obliged to respond several times.

F. B. Winslow, of Madison, was on the program for an address, but was unable to be present. A letter was read from him, however that was of great interest. Hon. J. W. Sale was also unable to be at the gatherings. Hon. B. F. Dunnwiddie spoke on "The All-around Young Man", and Hon. J. M. Whittehead spoke on "The Young Man as a Citizen." Prof. R. E. Loveland was toastmaster and Secretary Moehlenpach, presided at the business meeting which followed the dinner. This was an enthusiastic session and the success of the association for the ensuing year is assured. There were about thirteen members who went from this city.

And Devote Plenty of Time to It. It is hard for a man to see a pretty girl, with luscious, pouting, rosy lips, without thinking that he would like to have the opportunity to teach her how to whistle.—Somerville Journal.

WHAT WE GET OUT OF LIFE.

One bright summer day two children stood in front of a bee hive, interested in watching the busy workers as they buzzed in one at a time from field and garden, and deposited in the delicate cells the product of their morning's work. Johnny said:

"Jennie what makes a bee so busy in the summer time, and where do they stay all winter?" and Jennie told him about the home of the bees, and how every one except the drones were busy from morning till night all through the long summer days, preparing for the longer months of winter, and then she said, "They are such good providers, that they not only look out for themselves but they put in stock enough to supply our table with honey all the year round."

"But," Johnny asked "are all bees alike, and do they all support themselves," and then Jennie told him about the few drones that were found in every family, and how after patience was exhausted in trying to induce them to work they were driven out of the home and disowned by the family and then she added, "They are a good deal like people. They get out of life what they put into it. In summer time they work and save, and in the winter they rest and enjoy the accumulation. There are not so many drones in the bee family and for this reason the most of them get a good deal out of life because they put something into it."

The little maid was a philosopher, and her mind had grasped one of the profound secrets of life.

The world is thronged with people who are not only restless and discontented, but who are also envious. This class do not belong to the family of drones for many of them are workers, but they have never been able to solve the problem of equitable distribution, and so they have come to think that the world is unjust, with chances not evenly distributed.

It is well to remember that this is not a world of chance and that luck, or what is commonly termed good fortune, has but little to do with destiny.

With rare exception the average American boy and girl commence life on about the same basis. Here and there, money may be inherited, but this is more frequently a curse than a blessing. Accumulation without exertion is abnormal.

If the hive were stocked with honey the juvenile bee would have no inducement to work, and a family of drones and loafers would soon develop, and the "busy bee" would lose reputation as a worker.

Life is intensely practical, and we take out of it in every day experience, as the journey progresses, in proportion to what we put into it. This is true of every department, as well as of every faculty of body, mind and heart.

The boy or girl who observes the laws of health and abstains from excess and dissipation, is laying the foundation of physical character that will develop a constitution which will stand the test and strain of the long years of active life, and carry them over into the golden age.

There is an army of people in middle life, broken in health and physically wrecked, whose condition can be traced to the excesses of youth and the pace that was too swift for endurance.

The boy who thinks it smart to stand on the corner and blow the smoke from a cigarette into the faces of the passerby, is cultivating a habit that will plant him in the cemetery twenty years before his allotted time.

He is not only inviting physical weakness and premature decay, but he is blunting both mental and moral sensibilities and baricading avenues that lead to success, which would otherwise be open to him.

If with this habit he combines the habit of drink, and the two usually go together, he will not be obliged to wait so long for the wreckage.

There is an article now going the rounds of the press in which it is stated that 40 per cent of the boys in the public schools in a town in the northern part of the state, are cigarette fiends. That means that 40 per cent of the men of the next generation, in that community will be physical derelicts and mental imbecils.

The superintendent of schools at Kenosha appreciated the danger when he issued his order expelling from his school this class of boys if they refused to reform.

The girl who dances all night, and goes home exhausted in the gray light of the morning, may live long enough to be a grandmother, but if she does she will be prematurely old, with a face so marked with wrinkles as to puzzle the ingenuity of a census taker.

An ocean liner is built for stated speed. She can make 20 knots an hour comfortably and without extra exertion, but crowd her to 22, and every fibre of the great steel vessel trembles under the pressure of extra steam, and her life is shortened in proportion.

These conditions are just as true concerning the human body. An All Wise Creator planned it for the voyage of life, and its intricate mechanism is so carefully adjusted that all reasonable demands are cheerfully met, but crowd it beyond the limit, and disaster is as certain to follow, as time is to advance.

Aside from inherited disease, for which the individual is not responsible, there is no reason why the average mortal should not live out allotted time.

Statistics show that while few business failures result from dishonesty that a large percentage of them are due to incompetency, which is simply another term for lack of preparation.

These failures cover every department of activity and are as common in agricultural, industrial and professional life, as they are in the commercial world. They do not attract so much attention in these departments because losses are confined to the individual.

When a bank or a merchant fails it is heralded over the country, but when a farmer or professional man gives up the battle, the process is by easy stages. He simply rusts out or dies of dry rot, and the busy world goes on.

There is no record kept of blasted hopes and crushed ambitions so common to life in many avenues, but failures of this class are of daily occurrence, and they can usually be traced to the futile effort of trying to get out of life something that was never put into it. This kind of effort has been a failure since the day when Esau sold his birthright for a dinner, and it will continue to be a failure while time endures.

There is found in every community a class of old people who possess the happy faculty of coming down the slope into the shadow of life, retaining every faculty of body, mind and heart, with scarcely a perceptible blemish.

The step may not be quite so elastic but this is about the only thing that marks the ravages of time.

In greeting these people, after a long absence, the remark is frequently made, "I can't see that you have changed any in 20 years."

Talk with them and you find that their mature minds are just as active as in middle life.

Get up close to them and you discover that the same warm blood courses through their veins, and the same heart responds to sympathy, as in the years of other days.

Gilbert Hubbard, of the Philistine, says, that these people are "80 years young", and he is right. They commenced in early life to cultivate the bright side of things, and they have never discovered any other side.

Devotion to the God of money has never been permitted to absorb all of their ambition, and a word of cheer and helping hand has never been withheld from humanity. Little children love them, young people respect them, and active life pays homage.

These people are young in old age, because the fountain of life has been kept pure and wholesome. Ask them what they have got out of life, and they will tell you that it has yielded a great deal more than they put into it.

This sort of old age is the crowning glory of life. It will be more common when the problem is studied more carefully and when the fact is more fully appreciated that life is what we make it.

Now two minute trotters are coming down the home stretch all in a bunch.

Care of the Teeth.

Nothing mars the natural beauty of the face so quickly as teeth which for various reasons are not beautiful. Everyone is not blessed with naturally good teeth, but if the proper care and attention be given, even very poor teeth can be improved. Go to a good reliable dentist have him examine your teeth and tell you what they need. Let him do the work for you and see how much improved your personal appearance will be. Dr. Richards will give the best of satisfaction and his work can be depended upon, while his prices are honest and reasonable, and he can do your work painlessly.

JANESVILLE, 7; WHITEWATER, 5

JANESVILLE STRUGGLES FOR THE STATE CHAMPIONSHIP TODAY.

ARE PLAYING MEDIOCRE BALL.

But Men Are Trying Hard To Keep Up the Record of Past Victories.

Flags waving, ribbons flying and excited groups standing along the outer lines and in bunches over the field, gaily decorated carriages coming and going, with the scene spread out before the spectators seated on the grand stand at Athletic park early this afternoon. Every enthusiast on the field felt that the coming game was a critical one and entered into this spirit of the moment. The Bower City boys appeared shortly after two and spent a few minutes in practice when the Whitewater team appeared and soon the teams were up.

TOSSING THE COIN.

The boys have been practicing steadily, an usual during the past week under Coach Norris and while the Whitewater team, has, not perhaps, quite so good a record as the aggregation from Lake Geneva, they are eleven lively men. During the past week, the local committee has placed bills advertising the game, all over the city and the event has been generally well advertised so the large crowd was no surprise.

SLUGGING IN THE LINE.

The Bower City boys played in about the same positions as last Saturday, which was: C. Callow; R. G. Kennedy; R. T. Atwood; R. E. Clithero; L. G. Carle; L. G. Locke; L. E. Ryan; Q. B. Galbraith; R. H. Flaherty; L. H. Roherty; F. B. Miltimore.

The Whitewater eleven lined up as follows: F. B. Engerbretson; R. H. Connell; L. H. Johnson; Q. B. Nickerson; R. E. Cox; R. T. Trever; R. G.

Lighter Players.
The average weight of the Whitewater bunch is 135, so the team is somewhat lighter than their opponents. While they have had good coaching their record does not come up to that of the Waukesha team. Whitewater defeated Stoughton 22 to 0, and in their game with Ft. Atkinson, neither team scored. When Whitewater lined up against South Side Milwaukee, they were snowed under 54 points.

Whitewater's Touchdown.
The Janesville team secured the ball on the kick-off and with steady gains advanced slowly towards the Whitewater's goal. When near the goal line the ball was lost to Whitewater and the visitors commenced a steady march towards Janesville's goal line. The local boys showed up poor on defense and the ball was pushed over the line. Cox failed to kick goal. Score at end of first half: Whitewater, 5; Janesville, 0.

Girls Do All Rooting.
Janesville was not playing in any such form as has characterized her work during the past two games. Team work was lacking and there was a want of nerve and spirit in the play. All the rooting was done by the girls.

Janesville Ahead.
Soon after the second half started Janesville made a safety. Score, Whitewater, 5; Janesville, 2.

With but a few minutes more to play Janesville scored five more on a drop kick. The game ended Janesville, 7; Whitewater, 5. Flaherty made the drop kick that won the game for the local team.

Score.
Janesville, 7;
Whitewater, 5.

FOOTBALL GAMES PLAYED TODAY

Much Interest Is Felt Both in the East and West Over Their Outcome.

Today is banner day on the checker board today. Knights of the pig skin both east and west are nerving for the first real tests of this year's football contests. Thousands of people are watching the struggles for supremacy between rival schools and when the final scores are recorded the championship of the east and west will be practically decided.

Much Interest.
In the west three big games are on. Chicago goes to Badgerdom and plays the Wisconsin team and the Wolverines have travelled all the way from Ann Arbor to pay the Gophers at Minneapolis at a fleeting visit. Then Northwestern will cross horns with the gentlemen from Illinois University. Wisconsin may beat Chicago if they do not become over confident. Michigan should trim the Gophers up although they play on the enemies grounds to the "Stickers."

In The East.
In the east Yale will play Columbia. Since the defeat of Pennsylvania by this team they are decided factors in the east and while Yale will probably score the 18 points expected surprises are liable to upset the best calculations. Harvard meets Carlsile. Princeton has for its play mate the Cornell boys and Pennsylvania has an easy game with Cornell.

PRICE OF MILK GOES NOVEMBER 1

SUPPLY LESSENS AT THIS TIME EVERY YEAR.

WILL BE SIX CENTS A QUART

Seven Dealers Supply Residents of Janesville—Twenty One Hundred Quarts Per Day.

Beginning tomorrow morning Janesville housewives will be obliged to pay six cents a quart for milk. This is the ultimatum which has gone forth from the city dealers and was decided upon at a meeting of the milkmen in this city recently. The supply of milk grows less every year at this time, but the difference is not always so great as cause and increase in the price.

Good Pastures this Summer.
For two reasons, there has been a higher price paid for the product early in November, but before that period, for several years, there was no change, although in several instances the pastures were considerably drier than they have been this summer.

Seven Retailers in Janesville.
There are now seven retailers in the city and at the present time about 2100 quarts are consumed daily by the residents in the city alone. Most of the dealers are now selling between one and two hundred quarts daily, while the largest concern which has several wagons, dispenses about 1200 quarts.

...Forty Years Ago...

Janesville Daily Gazette, Saturday October 31, 1863.—The great! ! county meeting held in this city yesterday afternoon and last evening was one of the most interesting performances which has ever come off in our city. The three leading copperheads in the state were present and spoke.

H. L. Palmer addressed a meeting in the afternoon consisting of about fifty of the peace democracy and about the same number of Union men. He devoted nearly the whole of his speech to an attempt to prove his own loyalty and the loyalty of the Ryan address. A large part of his audience left while he was speaking. We could not help a feeling of pity and compassion for Mr. Palmer. That a man of considerable ability, as Mr. Palmer undoubtedly is, should occupy a position in this time of national danger, where he should feel compelled to make a weak attempt to prove that he is for and not against his country, is to think most humiliating. We think every man who heard Mr. Palmer became satisfied that we want no such man for governor of this state.

Mr. Eldridge spoke first. But the great event of the evening, for which the audience were evidently impatient while Eldridge was speaking, was the speech of the great father of copperheadism in this state, Ryan.

This great, crack-brained Irish genius, is without doubt the most remarkable man in the state. He is a man of great mental power, of unswerving judgment, and intense personal and partisan bitterness. As was expected he was extreme, venomous, and disloyal in all his views. Under the cover of love for our constitution he took occasion to assail all who are endeavoring to uphold and defend it.

His whole speech was interlarded with statements and expressions equally disloyal, claiming that under the administration of Mr. Lincoln, the government had become more despotic than that of the czar, or Louis Napoleon. We have no doubt that every American citizen present, whether native born or adopted, who had a single spark of loyalty remaining, rejoiced as we did, that this country has been spared the disgrace of giving birth to this crazy, fanatical ingrate.

There is no government under heaven, except our own, which would or has strength enough in the midst of such a terrible civil war as this, to allow the open advocates of treason like Ryan to belch forth such tirades of falsehood and disloyalty.

Does the following sentiment of the once great leader of the democratic party, Stephen A. Douglas, sound much like the reasonable utterances of E. G. Ryan, last night in Lippin's hall in this city?

Who is the best authority with democrats, Ryan or Douglas? "America wants no friend, and knows the fidelity of no citizen, who, after war is declared, condemns the justice of her cause and sympathies with the enemy. All such are traitors in their hearts."

Ryan condemn everything that had been done in this war, and said nothing against Jeff Davis.

The memory of the horrors of the Sepoy rebellion is still fresh in the mind of every Englishman. Nana Sahib, the bloodthirsty chief of the Sepoys, is still at large, for the recent report of his capture turns out to be erroneous.

CATARRH CURED MINUS DRUGS

Hymel Medicated the Air You Breathe. Kills the Germs and Cures the Disease.

Hymel cures catarrh thoroughly and permanently, because it reaches the smallest air cells in the head, throat and lungs, kills the germs causing the disease and drives it from the system. Hymel goes to the root of the disease, destroys the cause, and makes permanent cures which can be effected in no other way. Breathe it for a few minutes four times a day and benefit will be seen at once. Continue this treatment for a few weeks and Hymel will have cured you.

The Hymel inhaler furnished with each outfit mingles with the air you breathe. It is a local and direct treatment for eradicating all catarrh germs in the mucous membrane and tissues and in this way cures catarrh in any part of the system. Used in connection with Hymel Balm it has been successful in curing the worst and most deep-seated cases of catarrhal deafness.

The complete Hymel outfit costs $1.00 and comprises an inhaler, a bottle of Hymel and a dropper. The inhaler will last a lifetime; and additional bottles of Hymel can be obtained for 50c.

Stronger than any claim that can be made in an advertisement, is the fact that the People's Drug Co. and King's Pharmacy will give their personal guarantee with every Hymel outfit they sell to refund the money if the purchaser can say that Hymel has not given satisfaction.

Coolie Street Car Line.

A curious street car line is that between Atami and Yoshihoma, two coast towns in the province of Izo, Japan. The road is seven miles long, the rolling stock consists of a single car, and the motive power is furnished by a couple of muscular coolies, who push the car along wherever power is necessary.

Londoners Are Better Housed.

While one-room tenements in London have decreased from 172,502 to 149,524, or 14 per cent, two-room, three-room and four-room tenements have increased 16 per cent, 18 per cent and 21 per cent, respectively.

Motor Face in Woman.

Many women are discovering that "living on a motor car" is most destructive of beauty. Moderate motoring, by improving health and the capacity for sleep, enhances a woman's charms, but the hardened tourist type of 150 miles a day tans and coarsens her skin and gets her feet around her eyes, her face loses its soft, womanly contour and gains hardness and determination.

Letter to Fannie George, Janesville, Wis.

Dear Madam: Whether you own your house or not, is no matter. If not, your interest in it, as tenant, is quite enough to satisfy what we are going to say, and a tenant can make his interest felt by the owner. You get better boarders and better prices in a prosperous looking house than a shabby one; and a leading part of the difference between the two is paint.

No doubt, your table is known; it brings you boarders and money. No doubt, your house is clean; that brings you boarders and money. No doubt, you maintain a certain manner among your boarders by choosing them well; and that brings you boarders and money.

Now add to all these a nice-looking house, outside and in, and you have an additional force upon people, who have no homes of their own. It pays no matter how poor, to have no home or ill to keep boarders, according to one selects them or has to take those that come.

We refer to these obvious thoughts for the sake of advising you how to paint; Devco Ready Paint.

This will cost as little as possible, and last as long as possible—twice as long as old fashioned paint, lead and oil.

F. W. DEVCO & CO.

P. S.—Devco Ready Paint can be found at J. P. Baker's.

BEARING DOWN PAINS

3647 Indiana Avenue.

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 27, 1902.

I have been a sufferer with almost every kind of female trouble for years, but as long as I could get around and do my work I would not try patent medicines as I had no faith in them.

About eight months ago I had to take to my bed, suffering with prolapsus of the uterus, with bearing down pains and intense pains in the back. My aunt, who came to nurse me told me of Wine of Cardui and sent for a bottle. I am indeed glad that she did, for that first bottle started me on the road to recovery. In a few weeks I was out of bed and in three months I was in better health and stronger than I had been in years. I taken since now, occasionally, of Wine of Cardui and am kept in perfect health.

Mabel Cook
Sec'y. Woodman's Circle No. 70.

The periodical discharge will be painless and healthy without continual weakening drafts. Wine of Cardui will make your health right and you may treat yourself privately in your own home. Secure a $1.00 bottle of Wine of Cardui from your druggist today.

HIGH CLASS DRUGGISTS AND — OTHERS.

The better class of druggists, everywhere, are men of scientific attainments and high integrity, who devote their lives to the welfare of their fellow men in supplying the best of remedies and purest medicinal agents of known value, in accordance with physicians' prescriptions and scientific formula. Druggists of the better class manufacture many excellent remedies, but always under original or official names and they never sell false brands, or imitation medicines. They are the men to deal with when in need of anything in their line, which usually includes all standard remedies and corresponding adjuncts of a first-class pharmacy and the finest and best of toilet articles and preparations and many useful accessories and remedial appliances. The earning of a fair living, with the satisfaction which arises from a knowledge of the benefits conferred upon their patrons and assistance to the medical profession, is usually their greatest reward for long years of study and many hours of daily toil. They all know that Syrup of Figs is an excellent laxative remedy and that it gives universal satisfaction, and therefore they are selling many millions of bottles annually to the well informed purchasers of the choicest remedies, and they always take pleasure in handing out the genuine article bearing the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of every package. They know that in cases of colds and headaches attended by biliousness and constipation and of weakness or torpidity of the liver and bowels, arising from irregular habits, indigestion, or over-eating, that there is no other remedy so pleasant, prompt and beneficial in its effects as Syrup of Figs, and they are glad to sell it because it gives universal satisfaction.

Owing to the excellence of Syrup of Figs, the universal satisfaction which it gives and the immense demand for it, imitations have been made, tried and condemned, but there are individual druggists to be found, here and there, who do not maintain the dignity and principles of the profession and whose greed gets the better of their judgment, and who do not hesitate to recommend and try to sell the imitations in order to make a larger profit. Such preparations sometimes have the name—"Syrup of Figs"—or "Fig Syrup" and of some piratical concern, or fictitious fig-syrup company, printed on the package, but they never have the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of the package. The imitations should be rejected because they are injurious to the system. In order to sell the imitations they find it necessary to resort to misrepresentation or deception, and whenever a dealer passes off on a customer a preparation under the name of "Syrup of Figs" or "Fig Syrup," which does not bear the full name of the California Fig Syrup Co. printed on the front of the package, he is attempting to deceive and mislead the patron who has been so unfortunate as to enter his establishment, whether it be large or small, for if the dealer resorts to misrepresentation and deception in one case he will do so with other medicinal agents, and in the filling of physicians' prescriptions, and should be avoided by every one who values health and happiness. Knowing that the great majority of druggists are reliable, we supply the immense demand for our excellent remedy entirely through the druggists, of whom it may be purchased everywhere, in original packages only, at the regular price of fifty cents per bottle, but as exceptions exist it is necessary to inform the public of the facts, in order that all may decline or return any imitation which may be sold to them. If it does not bear the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of every package, do not hesitate to return the article and to demand the return of your money, and in future go to one of the better class of druggists who will sell you what you wish and the best of everything in his line at reasonable prices.

TRADE VOLUME HOLDS IT OWN MANUFACTURERS ARE BEHIND

Great Efforts Are Being Made to Fill
Old Orders and Bring New Contracts Up to Date—Farm Products Command Good Prices.

Chicago, Oct. 31.—Dun's Review of Chicago Trade, published by H. G.
Dun & Co., says:

"Although the curtailment of production in finished iron and a partial strike of packing house workers for more wages has created a disturbing feeling, but little appreciable reaction appears in the aggregate volume of current business. Freight traffic shows no falling away. The distribution of merchandise through wholesale and leading retail channels compares favorably with a year ago, and there are larger dealings at the banks and in foodstuffs. Weather conditions have favored the progress of seedling and farm work, and the marketing of crops adds to a wider circulation of money throughout the interior. The prices of agricultural products maintain unusual firmness.

Hum of Industry.

"In the manufacturing branches there is ample employment on old orders and new contracts come forward as freely as looked for. A short shutdown for repairs in one department of a large steel plant is fully offset by the reopening of another. Pig iron is easier in price and supplies, and the buying included a large number of moderate quantities, the heaviest consumers being out of the market.
The demand for rails disclosed few large specifications, but there is good general buying of structural forms.
Many undertakings are planned in railroad extensions and other construction work involving unusual expenditures, but the execution of these is hindered owing to the pre-valing high cost of necessary materials and labor.

Factories Are Busy.

"Machinery and hardware factories are kept quite busy, some of the latter working hard to overtake old business. Car builders are on overtime to comply with urgent calls for various roads for additional freight equipment, and the new bookings engage capacity well into next year.
Furniture and wood-working branches report less local demand, but are doing well on replacement of outside buyers. Mercantile collections make a satisfactory showing, and the number of reported failures for the Chicago district does not exceed same week of 1902.

"Grain shipments for six days, including 2,757,336 bushels of corn, aggregate 5,559,740 bushels, and are almost 20 per cent over the previous week and fully double those of a year ago. The general demand has been fair and prices well sustained compared with closing a week ago. Live stock receipts, 324,528 head, are slightly over the corresponding week of 1902. Sheep advanced 15 cents per hundred weight. Choice hogs declined 15 cents and hogs closed weak; with 50 cents loss. Dealings in provisions showed best on domestic buying, and closing quotations were unchanged in ribs, 5 cents higher in lard and 32½ cents better in pork. Receipts increased in cheese 10 per cent, seeds 11 sheep and oats 14, broom corn 19, barley 20, cattle and butter 30, dressed beef 36, flour 40, hides 43, corn
